

As part of F·E·G·S's 70th Anniversary year, we will be sharing a series of historical perspectives that relate to the development, achievements and growth of F·E·G·S.

F·E·G·S CELEBRATES THE VOLUNTEER-PROFESSIONAL PARTNERSHIP AT ITS 70th Anniversary Dinner

Volunteers and Professionals, A Team that Changes the World is the theme of the F·E·G·S Health and Human Services System's 70th Anniversary Partnerships for a Changing World Benefit Dinner to be held May 10th at New York's Hotel Pierre.

In celebrating the volunteer-professional partnership, F·E·G·S pays tribute to the unparalleled networks and systems of remarkable and unique non-profit endeavors that have transformed millions of lives throughout the world.

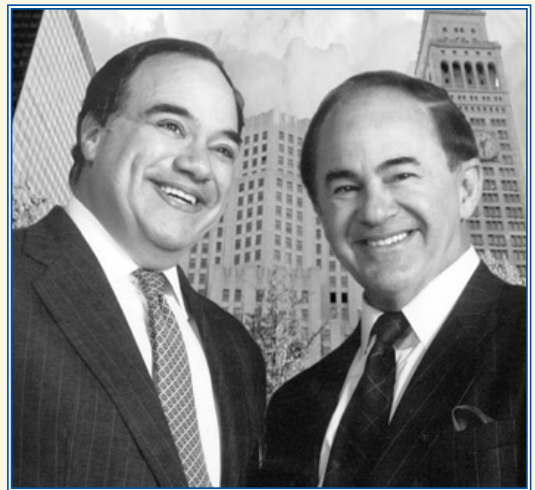

In designating the Agency's 70th anniversary year to recognize this partnership, F·E·G·S will honor Joseph Stein, Jr., F·E·G·S President and Board Chair, and Al Miller, F·E·G·S Chief Executive Officer. Together they embody the lay-professional partnership represented by generations of committed boards of directors and professional leadership.

Joe Stein, Jr., Managing Director of the investment firm of Neuberger Berman, LLC, has been a Board member of F·E·G·S for more than 25 years, and President & Chair for the past ten years. Al Miller first joined F·E·G·S in 1963 and has been its CEO since 1976.

AND AL MILLER

F·E·G·S is honored that, for the fourth consecutive year, Ernie Anastos, Emmy Award Anchor, CBS 2 News, New York will again be our special guest.

Today, F·E·G·S serves more than 100,000 people each year—some 9,000 each day—at over 300 locations throughout the New York City and Long Island. Its annual budget is in excess of $200 million.

Proceeds from this year's F·E·G·S benefit dinner will be designated for an endowment to benefit the Agency's Family Services programs, which reach thousands of individuals coping with HIV/AIDS, eating disorders, domestic violence, end-of-life illnesses, and many other family problems. ■
