

As part of F·E·G·S's 70th Anniversary year, we will be sharing a series of historical perspectives that relate to the development, achievements and growth of F·E·G·S.

FIGHTING DISCRIMINATION

One of the earliest mandates of Federation Employment Service was to fight discrimination in the workplace. This 1930's ad, one of a series placed in major New York newspapers, sought to bring attention and sensitivity to employment barriers faced by women, older workers, people with disabilities, Jews and others.

You can become a part of our 70th Anniversary Celebration with a contribution to F·E·G·S. Your tax deductible gift can help change the lives of the more than 100,000 individuals we serve each year. For more information call Gail Magaliff at 212.366.8551.

A copy of the latest annual report of F·E·G·S can be obtained from F·E·G·S by contacting our Executive Office at 315 Hudson Street, NY, NY 10013 or from the Office of the Attorney General by writing to the Charities Bureau, 120 Broadway, New York, NY 10271.