Dear Friends:

Warmest congratulations to all at F.E.G.S. on their 70th anniversary! We are delighted to help celebrate this landmark event at the 2005 Annual Benefit Dinner, Partnerships for a Changing World.

During those seven decades our community has experienced a multitude of changes and challenges – some which were predictable and could be prepared for, others that were unimaginable until they came without warning. And through it all, F.E.G.S. has been proactively “at the ready” for those in need, and the many forms those needs have taken. It is virtually impossible to calculate how many lives have been transformed – or saved – by this extraordinary health and human services organization. Suffice it to say, the beneficiaries number in the many thousands.

Yet no agency, however extraordinary, can work such wonders without gifted leaders. Thus we offer special congratulations to this year's honorees. The vision, commitment, and inspired leadership of President Joe Stein, Jr. and Executive Vice President Al Miller, paired with the dedication and energy of their talented staff, continues to make a difference for so many.

The seventieth anniversary of this remarkable organization is indeed a cause for celebration. UJA-Federation of New York could ask for no better partner than F.E.G.S. in this rapidly changing world.

With very best wishes,

Morris W. Offit
